aining exclusive residence district in the territory which was once far beyond the city's northern boundary but is now a part of its downtown river front. It is a sort of residential island in a crowded business section and is surrounded by stores of every kind with great trans-Atlantic docks only two blocks away. In spite of this, however, it has retained through two centuries its identity as a district of old-fashioned homes. The present leases are more than fifty years old, ante-dating almost any others in the city, and the occupants of the Terrace are prepared to fight bitterly the plan to convert the district into a purely commercial center by the erection of stores where ancient houses now stand. The property is of more than ordinary interest, not only because of its age and character but also on account of the famous persons who have lived there. It is now the only downtown residential district where thirty-foot lawns may be found in front of the houses of which not one is less than sixty years old. Two families have lived

Marked For Death
"Three years ago I was marked for death. A grave-yard cough was tearing my lungs to pieces. Doctors failed to help me, and hope had fled, when my husband got Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. A. C. Williams, of Bac, Ky. "The first dose helped me and improvement kept on until I had gained 58 pounds in weight and my health was fully restored." This medicine holds the world's healing record for coughs and colds and lung and throat diseases. It prevents pneumonia. Sold under guarantee at Charles Rogers & Son's drug store. 50c and $1.00. ## The Daily Market Report

PORTLAND, Dec. 4.—Milling interests today announced an advance of 20 cents a barrel on patent flour and 10 cents on straights, to take effect tomorrow. Export prices will not be changed. Recent advances in wheat prices and the strong condition of the market are the factors that have necessitated the lift in flour values. The new prices will put the local market practically on parity with the Puget Sound markets, where quotations were raised several days ago.

there more than sixty years, and seven for more than half a century, as the leases for this historic district were originally drawn to run twenty-one years with the privilege of four renewals for equal periods. On this account the commercial spirit which is attempting to obliterate this last remaining bit of old New York is likely to meet resolute opposition.

Two pockets in an overcoat are nothing rare, but two overcoats in a pocket, or rather two pockets, is the unusual achievement of the largest pair of trousers on record which has just been invented by a New Yorker. Their largeness consists not in their size but in the capacity of their pockets, and had their inventor confined his efforts to the legitimate field he might have made a fortune among boys in all parts of the country. The remarkable feature of these trousers lies in the fact that they contain six pockets each of which is capable of holding a winter overcoat. The garment was not designated, however, as a substitute for a trunk or even a suitcase. Its purpose, as admitted by its inventor in the police court, is purely nefarious, the remarkable garment being designed as an aid to shoplifting. When the inventor, owner and sole operator of those remarkable trousers was arrested because of his peculiar actions, it was found on searching him that his pockets contained two overcoats, three skirts and one pair of shoes, all unpaid for. While the invention is undoubtedly new and of immense possibilities, in its field, it is likely to be little used in the near future, both because the police are watching for it and because its inventor will wear stripes for some time to come.

GOOD CONDUCT WINS.

Governor Mead Refuses Requisition To Take Man Back East.

SEATTLE, Dec. 4.—Governor Mead last night refused to honor the requisition of Governor Fort of New Jersey, for the return to New Jersey of Elliot A. Archer, alias Archie Carter, who is wanted in that state for trial on seventeen indictments charging forgeries amounting to $70,000.

Sergeant of Detectives Walter Godfrey and Detective Frank Tuite of Newark, N. J., where the indictments were found, arrived in the city last night with papers from the governor of New Jersey for Archer's return East. They had with them the indictment's, which, with the papers from the governor, were examined by Prosecuting Attorney Mackintosh and Attorney General Atkinson and pronounced regular.

Counsel for Archer went before the governor in the Arlington Hotel and the Governor, after hearing both sides, told the New Jersey authorities that they would have to produce more evidence to offset the upright conduct of Archer since he had been a resident of this state for more than seven years. Archer will probably be released today.
